

ACRE Investment Real Estate Services Adds Three New Agents

Dated: Jul 28, 2010

ACRE Investment Real Estate Services is please to announce the addition of three new agents to the team. Diana Fusina, Adam Paulsen, and Warren Manfredi have joined ACRE as Senior Directors.

ACRE Investment Real Estate Services is please to announce the addition of three new agents to the team.

Diana Fusina - Senior Director. Ms. Fusina worked as an agent for a large national apartment group and was instrumental in closing multiple deals in Central San Diego and East County. Prior to pursuing a passion for real estate, Diana owned and operated a service and sales based franchise. Her worldwide success earned her many accolades which lead to the demand for her to be periodically hired as a consultant.

Adam Paulsen - Senior Director. Mr. Paulsen has spent over six and a half years at a national brokerage company, channeling his financial analysis background, with two Big 4 Accounting firms, into the commercial real estate industry, specializing in multi-family investment sales. During this time period, Adam has been involved in over a $100 million worth of real estate transactions. With a business education from Pepperdine University, Adam is an expert at analyzing property investment with both a simple or complex financial model.

Warren Manfredi - Senior Associate. A San Diego native, Warren Manfredi's expertise in multifamily gives his clients a professional and analytical approach to the commercial real estate arena. A graduate of San Diego State University, his experience in acquisitions, sales, and 1031 exchanges, provide a dynamic platform to maximize value and protect client interests.

ACRE Investment Real Estate Services specializes in San Diego multi-family investment sales, financing, and property management. We offer a full-service real estate investment firm, with offices in North San Diego County, Central San Diego, and LA.